

ASRi - the Alternative Solutions Resource initiative, presents:

David Eisenberg

The Bigger Picture:

Green building, Codes and Beyond.

Come join one of North America's foremost authorities on sustainable building as he shares his accumulated knowledge from nearly 20 years working for 'deep green' change in the design and construction of buildings.

His thought-provoking, informative and entertaining talk will cover a range of topics from alternative materials and vernacular building, to water issues, civic planning and community participation, green energy and, yes, building codes.

About David: Co-founder and executive director of DCAT - the Development Center for Alternative Technology, Tucson, AZ - he has presented numerous lectures in the US and abroad.

David and DCAT received the 2007 International Code Council (ICC) Affiliate of the Year Award and a 2007 USGBC Leadership Award.

Tuesday, October 26th, 6.30 - 9.00 PM
